UPDATE: Glenwood Springs Water Treatment Plant Currently Experiencing Issue

GLENWOOD SPRINGS, CO – The Glenwood Springs water treatment plant has regained access to the City's raw water supply and is once again drawing water from its primary source. The supply of finished water is stable in the majority of town, but staff are reporting low water levels at the Cardiff Tank, in south Glenwood Springs. Residents and businesses in south Glenwood may experience low water pressure or a temporary shut-off. Water treatment plant staff have identified the issue, air pockets in the water line and a severed communication line, and are working to resolve these problems as quickly as possible. The City of Glenwood Springs will continue to send updated information as it becomes available.
